HONOREE . . . Diplomas in hand, 144 graduates of the Torrance High School Class of 1949 wait ready to receive the benediction and step down from the stage to be congratulated by parents, relatives, and friends who attended the exercises last Thursday night.—Herald photo by Bob Wilton.

Attorney Joins Leading Oil Law Firm in L.A.

James M. Hall, popular young Torrance attorney, has accepted an invitation to join the staff of Roy P. Dooley, prominent Los Angeles attorney and oil man. Attorney Hall will specialize in petroleum and corporate matters, he said. While Hall will relinquish his office at 1308 Sartori avenue, Torrance, on July 1, and move to the headquarters of the large law firm at 811 West Seventh street, Los Angeles, he states that he will continue his own private practice with local clients, from the Los Angeles office. He and Mrs. Hall, with their two children, who own their home in Seaside Ranchos, will continue to live in Torrance, Hall states.

"We have fallen in love with Torrance, and shall continue to look upon this community as our home," he added. Attorney Hall first opened his law offices here in November, 1948, when he became associated with Judge John A. Shidler and Attorney Boris S. Woolley at the Sartori avenue offices. Hall resigned from the general counsel's staff of the Union Oil

PRICE DROPS

Columbia Steel Company, United States Steel subsidiary, has announced a reduction of 35 cents per hundred pounds in the extra for hot galvanizing wire nails. This change reflects the several recent reductions in the price of zinc. The new extra is $2.45 per hundred pounds in carloads and $2.70 per hundred pounds in less than carloads.

Company to enter into private practice here. He is a member of the Torrance Rotary Club and takes an active interest in civic and community affairs, which he plans to continue.

Contract For Pool Awarded

Macco Construction Co. this week was awarded the contract for the construction of a swimming pool for the southwest portion of Alondra Lake by the Board of Supervisors.

The firm's bid of $20,447 was the lowest received. The proposed facility will cover two acres and will be the largest swimming pool in the county.

Local Scholars Given Degrees From U.S.C.

Among the 4200 graduates who participated in the 66th annual commencement exercises of the University of Southern California held June 11, were 12 local scholars.

Graduates who are residents of this community and their respective degrees and certificates are: George Snow, Robert H. Tolson, James G. Yarbrough, Bachelor of Science in Business Administration; Robert C. Edgar, Rodney M. Norris, Ernest E. Thornton, Bachelor of Engineering; Heinrich Hull, Doctor of Education; Earl W. Eckert, Lester I. Foster, Charles E. Wallace, Pete S. Zamperini, Master of Science in Education; Carl H. Lyons, Graduate Certificate in Social Work.

It was the largest graduating class of Trojans since the university was established sixty-nine years ago. More than 3000 were G.I. veterans.
